Concerto

by

Pietro Nardini

In a Special Concert Arrangement by

Miska Hauser

AMONG the eminent violinists and composers of the old Italian school, Pietro Nardini occupies a very prominent position.

He was born at Fibiano, a village of Tuscany, in 1722. In 1753 he was appointed solo violinist at the court of Stuttgart and remained there until 1767, when he returned to Italy. Later he visited Leghorn and Padua, where he remained with his old master, Tartini, until the latter's death in 1770. After this he was appointed solo violinist and maestro of music to the Court of the Duke of Tuscany, in whose service he remained until his death, which occurred May 7, 1793.

Nardini was the most eminent pupil of Tartini.

Of his playing, Leopold Mozart, himself an eminent violinist, wrote as follows: "The beauty, purity and equality of his tone, and the tastefulness of his cantabile playing, cannot be surpassed; but he does not execute great difficulties."

As a composer Nardini possessed unusual qualifications. He was very prolific, but only a very small number of his works were published. These include six violin concertos, sonatas, solos, quartets, duets and flute trios. Among his best known and most characteristic violin works are a Sonata in D Major and the present Concerto. These compositions are all imbued with, and characterized by a very cheerful and joyous disposition. While they possess no real greatness or power, their clear, innocent melodiousness, delightful style, as well as nobility and depth of feeling, stamp them as among the most noteworthy creations among Italian violin music of that epoch.

This Concerto (composed in 1760) aside from its historic value, possesses all the attractive qualifications which distinguish the compositions of Nardini from those of other writers of his day and time. The three movements display remarkable freedom of style and inventive skill, while the melodic expression and general fluency of the solo part mark the dividing line between the old and sterner church style, and the dawn of more modern and freer musical forms.

The appropriate and artistic setting given to this concerto by Miska Hauser, has done much to enhance its beauties. He has retained the original solo part and without over-loading the accompaniment, has succeeded in arousing lasting interest in one of the most delightful works of the old Italian school.

SCHOOL OF VIOLIN STUDY

Based on

HARMONIC THINKING

Intermediate to Fairly Advanced

in the First Position only

Book I—Harmonic Thinking.....$1.00
Book II—Harmonic and Rhythmic Thinking.. .75

A consistent and systematically graded plan of study, based on a habitually felt tonal and rhythmical relationship, as a means of acquiring the subtle, mental and musical control of the necessary elements of violin playing. These books especially bridge the gap in violinistic study needs between the elementary studies and the point at which the Kreutzer Etudes are normally begun.
